More than 50 workshops
for all ages

Kaya, welcome to Bunbury Summer School

After the year that was 2020 we are excited to be looking ahead to the next decade and the eighth Bunbury Summer School (BSS), filled with an inclusive program of workshops for all ages and skill levels.

This year, thanks to the support of the City of Bunbury and Lotterywest, the Stirling Street Arts Centre boasts a new building on site, enabling BSS to pack more workshops into a new 9-day program.

These include painting, drawing, drama, dance, music, basketmaking, pottery and much more.

BSS21 will also be hosting workshops at the Bunbury City Band room, Croquet Club and public open spaces around the CBD. These subsidised offerings provide a great opportunity to discover those spaces you might not have visited before or engage with them more closely. Look out for 'See like a Bee' in the council gardens, sketching in Anzac Park and Bird watching at Mangrove Cove. Thank you to the generous support of the Stirling Street Arts Centre for making these possible as well as our funding partners: City of Bunbury, Southern Ports and Harvey Water.
